

Smart ID Digital Access component

CVE-2021-3449 Vulnerability

An openssl vulnerability has been found, that can affect Hybrid Access Gateway and Digital Access of versions from 5.13.x to 6.0.4.

Read this article for instructions how to handle the vulnerability: Handle the CVE-2021-3449 Vulnerability

CVE-2021-3156 Vulnerability

A severe vulnerability has been found in the Unix and Linux operating systems. This is only a problem if you have added unprivileged users to the Digital Access system. The default installation does not have any unprivileged users.

Read this article for instructions how to handle the vulnerability: Handle the CVE-2021-3156 Vulnerability.

Give users smooth and secure access to digital resources with multifactor authentication and single sign-on.

>Read more

Overview

Get to know the component and its main features.

News

Read the latest news and release notes.

Roadmap

See what features are planned to be implemented.

Deployment

Find all the details on deployment and requirements.

Configuration

Learn how to customize settings for your use.

Integrations

See all available interfaces and integrations.

Archive

Find documentation for previous versions of the component.

GDPR

Read the GDPR Statement.

News

Smart ID release 21.04.3
created Oct 04, 2021

Recently updated

Upgrade Digital Access from 5.13.1 and above to 6.0.5 and above
Sep 13, 2021 • updated by Ylva Andersson • view change

Upgrade Digital Access component from 6.0.0 and above to 6.0.5 and above
Sep 13, 2021 • updated by Ylva Andersson • view change

Upgrade Digital Access component from 6.0.5 or above
Sep 13, 2021 • updated by Ylva Andersson • view change

Digital Access component requirements and interoperability
Sep 13, 2021 • updated by Ylva Andersson • view change

Release note Digital Access component 6.0.7
Sep 01, 2021 • updated by Ann Base • view change

Search

Search in Digital Access

Enter complete words or use wildcard character * to search.